DESCRIPTION OF TARGA 27.1 FLYBRIDGE

---

Targa 27.1 Flybridge from 2008 with the big Volvo Penta D6-370 engine with almost everything in equipment.

The first Targa 27 was launched during the Helsinki Boat Show back in 1991. Since then, the 27-footer has become something of the archetype of a Targa. In 2003, the boat was relaunched in a new design, and what stood out above all was the new design of the bottom, which gives it a sublime ride in all conditions. It then became an even greater success and has sold as many as 400 copies worldwide.

This 27.1 F has the largest engine with just over 1100 hours on the clock. The boat has been well maintained, and has teak on decks and benches everywhere. In combination with the blue hull this gives the boat an exclusive look.

Despite its only 27 feet, the boat has an extraordinary amount of space. Large seating area in the front where you can set up a teak table, which can also be used on the deck aft. In addition, a large teak bathing platform with an exclusive bathing ladder with teak steps - there is also a shower to clean off the salt after swimming or to clean the catch of the day.

In the wheelhouse there is seating for 5 during cruising, and four around the beautiful teak saloon table. Kitchenette and fridge is neatly available.

In the aft cabin there is a double berth and two bunk berths and plenty of space for stuff. In front of the steering cabin there is also a spacious toilet.

The boat is steered comfortably from the steering cabin, but also from the elegant flybridge, where there are three seats for the sunny days.

If you are going on a weekend trip, or out fishing with friends, then this Targa 27.1 is perfect and safe in all kinds of weather.

The boat has just been polished and prepared for the new season. Just turn the key and get going.

New Axiom plotter and VHF from Raymarine have just been installed.
